The European Women's Lobby explained to Members of the European Parliament

Gender equality is an essential part of democracy, social justice and human rights.

Women and girls are half of Europe's population, and are entitled to the same rights as men and boys. They are now present in all spheres of society, from education to employment, reaching political and business decision-making. They are more able than ever to bring their voice to the political debates and raise their concerns. Events, campaigns and conferences are taking place in different countries, giving life to a renewed women's social movement.

However, despite this optimistic picture, equality between women and men is far from being a reality and women's rights are facing a stronger backlash than ever. In all areas of society and life, women still face discrimination, inequality, violence and insecurity.

The EU has a role to play to promote gender equality, end violations of women's human rights, and mainstream women's rights in all its work.

In the European Union...

The reality

Women account for only 24% of people that we hear and read about in the news

Out of 10, only 1 woman has been an EU Special Representative appointed in troubled areas of the world

Women are less than 40% of the teachers in tertiary education

1 in 10 women in Europe does not have access to care in the first months of pregnancy

Women are 17% in high-level positions dealing with energy in national ministries

The commitments

Treaty of the EU article 2
Equality between women and men is a value of the EU and the EU Member States

Charter of Fundamental Rights in the EU, article 23
Equality between women and men must be ensured in all areas, including employment, work and pay

Treaty of the EU, article 3
The EU shall promote equality between women and men

Treaty on the Functioning of the EU, article 8
The EU will aim to eliminate inequality and promote equality between women and men

WHAT IS THE EUROPEAN WOMEN'S LOBBY AND OUR MEMBERSHIP

The European Women's Lobby (EWL) is the largest umbrella organisation of women's associations in the European Union, working to promote women's rights and equality between women and men, and representing a total of more than 2000 organisations.

We want to be the voice of the women's movement in Europe and its diversity: our membership includes organisations representing migrant women, women with disabilities, Romani and traveler women, business women, farmer women... Not one single girl or woman should be left behind!

Acting as a forum for increased exchange, cooperation and integration, the EWL allows the women's organisations of Europe to play an active role in shaping the European framework for gender equality and women's rights.

HOW THE EWL CAN HELP YOU IN YOUR DAILY WORK

- Our vibrant membership represents the diversity of women and women's movement all over Europe. EWL members can give you reliable information from the ground on the situation of women's and girls' rights to feed into your parliamentary work.
- EWL members, supported by a Brussels-based Secretariat, work on a wide range of topics (socio-economic policies, violence against women, women in decision-making...) and can provide you with their expertise on these issues.
- Equality between women and men is everybody's business in every sector of society. Environment policies, taxation, EU budget... have an impact on the life of women and girls and gender equality. Based on their experience, EWL members can equip you with the tools to apply women's rights and gender equality to every aspect of EU policies.
