Promote women’s employment by effectively enforcing and strengthening EU equality legislation.

Guarantee women’s economic independence through individual rights to social protection and taxation.

Protect all women workers, irrespective of their employment status, including pregnant workers.

Combat women’s poverty, including in-work poverty, and put an end to the gender pay and pension gaps.

Democratise the EU semester process through the participation of the EP and women’s organisations.

Establish 2016 as the EU Year to End violence against women, with substantial resources to raise awareness and support actions at all levels.

Adopt and implement an EU Strategy to end all forms of violence against women in Europe, including prostitution, to end impunity, protect all women and give them access to justice.

Establish an EP intergroup on sexual violence.

Guarantee universal access to sexual and reproductive health and rights.

Measure equality outcomes and impact of new and existing EU policies and legislation, on all women and girls.

Improve the EU anti-discrimination law, by extending the EU directive on sex discrimination to all fields of EU competence, and supporting the adoption of a more comprehensive directive addressing discrimination on the grounds of religion or belief, age, disability or sexual orientation.

Take into account women’s diversity of needs and adopt appropriate measures to combat multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination experienced by women.

Develop standards on quality and affordable care services for children, dependent and elderly persons across the life-cycle.

Develop a multi-layered approach that focuses on equality in paid and unpaid work to enable both women and men to become equal earners and equal carers throughout their lives.
